About the Project

Priyamvada (प्रियंवदा) is an audiobook project, and the first ever audiobook in Samskrit. It is intended to consider the books which are the basic texts of the Samskrit sastras as well as the books which are adopted in the curriculum of the Samskrit universities of India and some general literary books which are relevant and useful to the Samskrit loving general public while listing. These books will be useful for the students to learn easily at their convenience and to the public those who wish to enjoy the fragrance of Samskrit literature.

An Android as well as an ios application will be developed to host the books of the Samskrit Sastras and other relevant books. A fair number of 40 books consisting of different sastras and literary works relevant to the time will be made available in the format of audiobooks.

Samskrit scholars will be screened and hired to record all these books. The edited and processed audio files will be checked and uploaded it on the application. Each book will be provided with its metadata such as the author, domain etc.

Once a fair number of books are hosted on the app, an App launch function will be conducted. The remaining books will be uploaded time to time.

The app as well as all the above-mentioned contents will be made available for free of cost on Play store as well as on Appstore.
